

Department of Atomic Energy
BHABHA ATOMIC RESEARCH CENTRE TRAINING SCHOOLS

Addendum

The preliminary advertisement which appeared in national daily newspapers in the first week of December 2009, the detailed advertisement which appeared in the issue of Employment News dated December 19-25, 2009 and also the website www.hrdbarc.gov.in for online applications inviting applications for admission to the Orientation Course for Engineering Graduates and Science Post-Graduates (OCES)-2010 and DAE Graduate Fellowship Scheme (DGFS)-2010 programmes of the BARC Training Schools, mentions IIT-Bombay, IIT-Delhi, IIT-Kanpur, IIT-Madras, IIT-Roorkee and NIT-Rourkela as the Institutes in which selected candidates may pursue M. Tech. under the DAE Graduate Fellowship Scheme (DGFS) in applicable disciplines. It is hereby notified that, in addition to the Institutes mentioned above, those selected for DGFS programme may avail the fellowship for pursuing M. Tech also in the Institute of Technology, Banaras Hindu University (IT-BHU), Varanasi. The departments in IT-BHU in which this Fellowship is tenable are: a) Mechanical Engineering, b) Chemical Engineering, c) Metallurgical Engineering, and d) Electronics Engineering. In all other respects the previously released advertisement mentioned above remains valid. The OCES/DGFS programme leads to recruitment as Scientific Officers in DAE. The last date for online applications in Engineering disciplines is April 21, 2010 and is April 15, 2010 for postal applications.